

Merck Tours at EWOC 2024
FOR STUDENTS AND POSTDOCS ONLY

The Merck site in Rahway, New Jersey was established almost a century ago as the home of Merck Research Laboratories and serves as the company's corporate headquarters. The offered site tour will include visits of the Discovery and Process Chemistry labs, the kilogram-scale Preparatory Labs, and the small molecule pilot plant. Time permitting, the tour will also include stops at recently renovated spaces that reimagine the modern workplace, historical landmarks, and new scientific and manufacturing facilities under construction that will support innovative research and development in the future.

There is no a limit on the number of people who can sign up for the site tour. We are fully capable of accommodating everyone and can easily divide into smaller groups if necessary.
